

Frequently Asked Questions

I've done nothing wrong, why should I worry about a tax enquiry?

The majority of tax enquiries are now generated by computer "risk profiling" while others are selected completely at random. As a result, HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) sometimes picks the wrong targets. Even if you have done nothing wrong, the taxman will not give up and will still try hard to find errors.

Can anyone's tax affairs be scrutinised by HMRC?

Anyone who submits a tax return can come under scrutiny. Every year, HMRC start enquiries into many thousands of personal and business tax returns and accounts. VAT and PAYE payments are also thoroughly checked. The aim in every case is to collect more tax.

A record £30.4bn of additional tax was collected through compliance checks in 2020/21, with a 9% increase in the number of enquiries opened, and this is set to continue as HMRC look to recover the cost of the pandemic.

Do I need to reduce my spending in the current economic climate?

Not paying for our fee protection service could be a false economy. The potentially high costs of defending you in an enquiry would be much less affordable than the small annual charge. One thing is certain – HMRC does not stop making enquiries into tax returns when there is an economic downturn. The amount of debt the government is in at present is only likely to increase the potential threat of an HMRC enquiry!

Why do I need protection?

Like any other protection to meet an unexpected cost, everyone hopes that they don't need it but when a costly enquiry starts, clients are glad that they've paid the small annual charge for the peace of mind it extends in the event of an investigation.

I've already got some protection through a trade subscription or policy. e.g. FSB. Why isn't this sufficient?

Such cover will normally be limited and not as wide ranging as the practice service. Such policies may not pay our fees to look after you and may instead bring in an outside consultant who doesn't know you.

How much could a tax enquiry cost me in professional fees?

The questions asked by HMRC are usually very detailed and time-consuming to answer. The costs of defending you can easily run into thousands of pounds, even if little or no extra tax is paid at the end of the enquiry. These costs are not protected by the normal annual fees paid to us.

Is there anything I can do for peace of mind?

You can subscribe to our Tax Fee Protection Service which will protect you for the work and costs of defending you in the event of a tax enquiry by HMRC.
